All EMRAM Programs are completely dependent upon the generous contributions of our sponsors. Without sponsorship these programs could not happen. Any monies collected over and above the expense of the programs allow us to provide Resident scholarships to the ACEP Leadership & Advocacy Conference held annually in Washington, DC.
In-Service Review Course
February 7-8, 2020
Johnson Center
Cleary University – Livingston Campus
Howell, MI

In-Service:

The EMRAM In-Service Review Course began in 2004 as an annual preparatory course designed for residents to review core topics in Emergency Medicine prior to the in-service exam. The course has been designed as a three-part series....residents are encouraged to attend each of the three years in order to take full advantage of this unique and outstanding opportunity.

The format is designed to address scenario-based questions similar to the in-service and board format of “the next most appropriate action” type question. Speakers are selected for their areas of expertise and teaching ability. Featured speakers represent several residency programs throughout the state. Attendance has exceeded 250 residents in the past representing emergency medicine residency programs across the State of Michigan.

Annual feedback for this review course has been outstanding. Both Allopathic and Osteopathic residents will benefit from attending this review.

SimWars:
Residents statewide will participate in a full day of EMRAM activities. The day will begin with SimWars, which is an interactive simulation competition that allows teams of four residents to compete against other residency programs on simulated patient encounters. An expert panel will judge each team’s performance in areas such as teamwork, communication, and leadership as well as medical management of the “patient”.

Annual Meeting:
Lunch will be provided and followed by the EMRAM Annual Meeting, the Election of 2019-2020 officers, and the presentation of the 2019 EMRAM Teacher of the Year Award.

Research Forum:
Following the Annual Meeting selected research will be presented in both oral and poster format. EMRAM offers a cash award for the presentation determined best by the judges.
